

WEBINAR

AUSTRALIAN ENERGY STORAGE OPPORTUNITIES

ABOUT THIS WEBINAR

The Australian Trade and Investment Commission (Austrade) invites you to attend a webinar on investment opportunities in energy storage.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

- Learn about investment opportunities in energy storage projects in Australia and how your company can participate in this market.
- Hear Government speakers give updates on the regulatory framework in the Australian Market
- Find out more about emerging projects in Australia's States & Territories
- Discover how investment specialists from the Australian Trade & Investment Commission (Austrade) can provide practical support in accessing the market through dedicated, confidential services free of charge

SPEAKERS

- Australian Government Representative
- The Australian Energy Storage Alliance
- State & Territories Representatives
- A successful investment case study

MARKET INSIGHTS

- According to the Australian Clean Energy Council,
 - › The Australian battery market will at least treble in 2017
 - › In 2016, 13 times more batteries were installed than in 2015 (500 installations with 6750 batteries and 52 MWh)
- The Australian Council of Learned Academics reports:
 - › Energy storage will be critical to Australia's successful transformation linking energy production and consumption
 - › Australia has world-class resources of raw materials needed for battery manufacturing

Important information

Date: 22 March

Time: 9-10 am CET

Register by: 16 March

Cost: Free

Who should attend?

International businesses in:

- energy storage investment
- financiers
- independent power and renewable energy producers
- utilities
- smart grid
- technical and business support services
- project finance and industry associations

How to participate?

Register here

The webinar is free, but places are limited. The registration confirmation email will include all webinar log-on information.

For questions please contact:

David Urry
Investment Manager
Austrade Berlin
david.urry@austrade.gov.au